

The City's football club - Leeds United AFC - has been at the fringe of, if not the cause of, a number of riots in the later years of the 20th century.

These have been held on other people's turf and do not fall within the definition of "Riots in Leeds".